

PIHCI Network Learning Series

2020-2021

Session 4

End-of-Life in Primary Care

Mrs Ghislaine Rouly will participate in the panel, in her role as patient partner

Learn more about our patient partners here

Barriers and Facilitators to Initiating End-of-Life Conversations, Assessing Patient and Caregiver Needs, and Patient/Family Centered Planning in Primary Care Practices: A Realist Review

Presented by Grace Warner, PhD Epidemiology

Dr. Grace Warner is a Professor at Dalhousie University School of Occupational Therapy and an Affiliate Scientist with Nova Scotia Health. She conducts applied health services research focused on understanding and facilitating community-based care needs of older adults and their families partnering with healthcare representatives and patient/family advisors.

Paramedics as Part of an Integrated, Patient and Family Centered Approach to End-of-Life Care

Presented by Alexandra Carter, MD MPH FRCPC

Dr Carter is the Medical Director of Research at EHS Nova Scotia and associate professor and attending emergency physician at Dalhousie University/ QE II Health Science Centre. She came to Halifax in 2008 after completing a Master of Public Health and a fellowship in Emergency Medical Services at Yale University. Dr Carter completed her Royal College emergency medicine residency at the University of Manitoba and medical school at the University of Western Ontario. Her research interests are in EMS policy and system design, but her biggest joys in life are her 2 amazing daughters.

Innovative Programs to Help Individuals and Families Affected by Life-Limiting Chronic Illnesses Navigate End-of-Life: A Realist Evaluation

Presented by Robin Urquhart, PhD

Dr. Robin Urquhart is an Associate Professor and Canadian Cancer Society Endowed Chair in Population Cancer Research in the Department of Community Health and Epidemiology, with cross-appointments in the Department of Surgery and Division of Medical Education at Dalhousie University.

Building Research for Integrated Primary Healthcare

Co-hosted by Jessica Nowlan, of the BRIC-NS Network

March 23, 2021

12PM-1:30PM EDT

Register Here

Questions: admin@spor-pihci.com